

Book A Writer

The Hawker Prize

Writers' Centre

Programmes & Projects

About

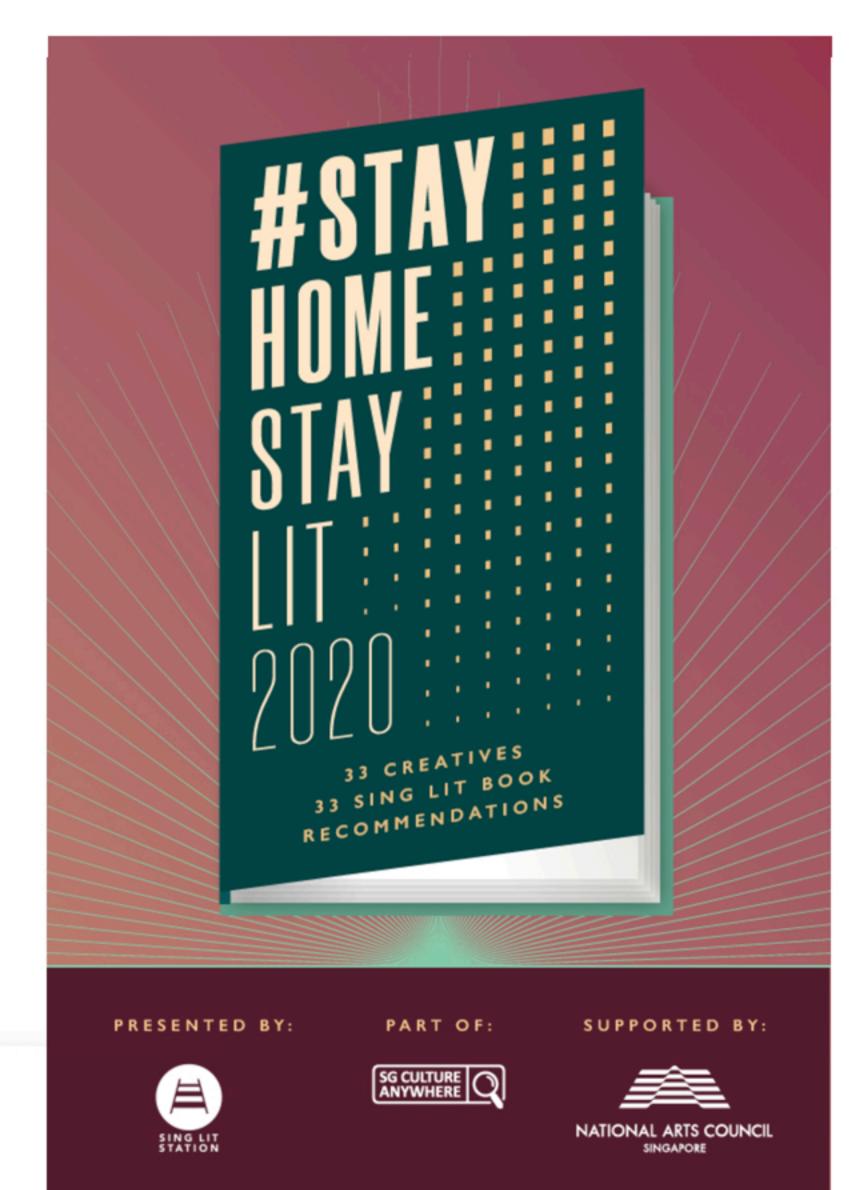

Calendar

Shop Support Team

Contact

#STAYHOMESTAYLIT2020

A digital campaign to shine light on Sing Lit. (#SGCultureAnywhere!!)

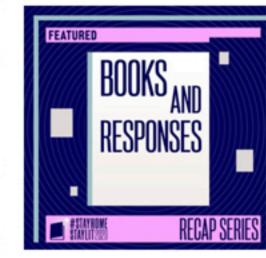

ou? Don't think, just type the first thought(s) that

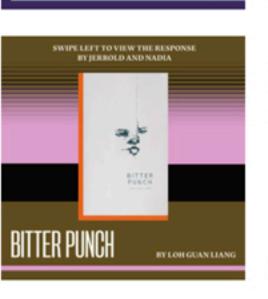

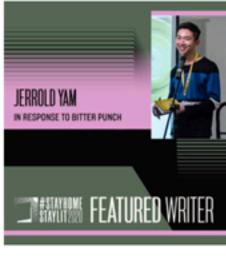

0 0 0

Why #StayHomeStayLit2020?

A lot of us felt that Sing Lit could bring great comfort and joy to everyone at home. Our digital campaign therefore aims to:

1 Commission artists and writers during the circuit breaker to support them and their works.

Bring attention to independent bookstores and local publishers to ensure they can stay afloat during this time.

2

Provide Singaporeans with ample reading material to keep their spirits up. Provide Singaporeans with ample reading material to keep their spirits up.

We're asking people to share reviews of a Sing Lit book they loved or are currently reading with the hashtag #StayHomeStayLit along with a note of where the book can be bought from. We're also asking authors to take over our Instagram account and answer a bunch of fun questions on IG Stories!

Follow us via @singlitstation to check out the fun.

0 0 0

Part of

Supported by

Presented by

Q Search

Q Search

ABOUT / CALENDAR / TEAM / SHOP / SUPPORT / CONTACT

+65-69093504

Weekdays, 1pm-6pm / Weekends, appointment only registered charity and Institution of Public Character (IPC). Our core mission is to grow the local literary community. Through our programmes and initiatives, we aim to be a platform where readers and writers can meet.

SING LIT STATION LTD (est. July 2016) is a non-profit organisation, reports.

© Copyright 2021. All rights reserved; read our website's privacy policy.

Click here to make a donation or view our financial statements / annual

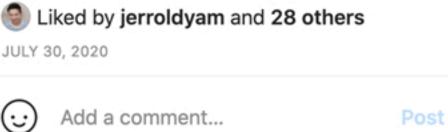

Instagram

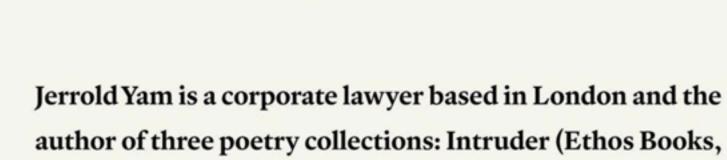

singlitstation

 \square

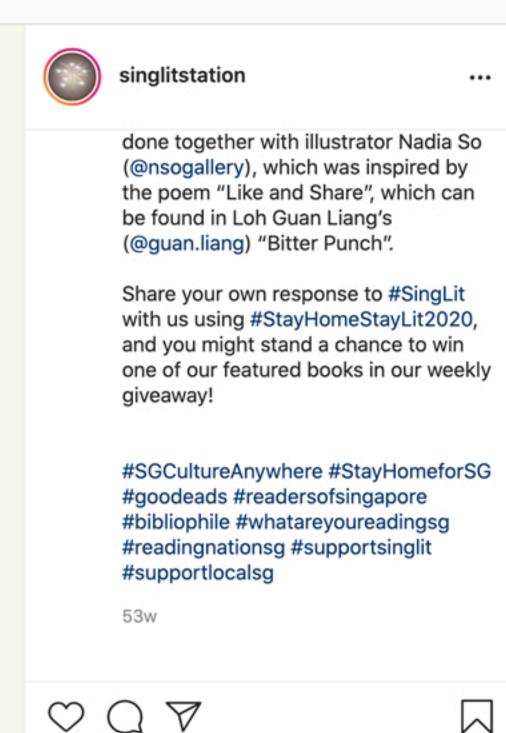

ABOUT JERROLD

2014), Scattered Vertebrae (Math Paper Press, 2013) and Chasing Curtained Suns (Math Paper Press, 2012). His poems have appeared in Oxford Poetry, Prairie Schooner, The Straits Times and Time Out Magazine. He has received awards from the British Council, National University of Singapore and Poetry Book Society (UK), and been nominated for the Forward and Pushcart Prizes.

Liked by jerroldyam and 28 others

Post

Add a comment...

JULY 30, 2020